The Maury Mecca

We dedicate . . .

In the course of education, we as a student body sit before and admire a great many men and women who come to us in an effort to teach and influence us in the basic principles of sound thinking. It would be impossible to repay this person we have chosen for his outstanding work. He has presented an honest philosophy which without reservation, prejudice, or exception has gained the respect and appreciation from each member of our student body. He is one more than worthy; his guidance and understanding bas been invaluable to all of us. Willing to contribute to our every need, he has given most freely of his time toward the advancement and betterment of our school. His characteristic philosophy has been cultured in many of us and is being incubated in others.

He has graciously overlooked our faults and shortcomings and taken on the responsibility of advising us during our last and important "Senior" year. May the dedication of this book help in some small way to express our feeling of gratitude to him. We humbly dedicate the 1959 MAURY MECCA to MR. W. L. MAY.
